

Myran and Mr. De Ford and their associates reported to themselves. The net result was that the situation at the opening of the convention to-day in the same as it was weeks ago.

Mr. Murphy was informed last night that the names of Mr. "Fing" Connors and Mr. Edwin S. Harris of delegates' strength are not justified by reports from up-State County Chairmen and delegates who have reported to the convention in Syracuse. Mr. Connors has claimed 196 up-State votes for Mr. Hearst in the convention. Better informed, but apparently misinformed, Hearst agents have claimed 192 votes.

The checkup which was concluded early this morning shows, outside of Greater New York, these certain votes by counties for Hearst: Allegany, 2; Broome, 1; Delaware, 2; Dutchess, 2; Monroe, 1; Nassau, 2; Niagara, 2; Steuben, 2; Ulster, 2; Washington, 1; Wyoming, 2; Westchester, 2. Total, 44.

HEARST HASN'T LOOK-IN WITH 44 VOTES.

If Mr. Hearst has only 44 votes outside of Greater New York, the solid vote of Kings County and scattered votes he may obtain in Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, add to possibly the solid vote of Richmond, will not give him a look-in for the nomination in the convention.

Mr. Murphy is maintaining his attitude of silence. He was up until late this morning hearing reports about the alleged Hearst sentiment up-State. He did not send for any leaders from Greater New York to sound them as to the sentiment of the city. Because he knows what that is.

He knows that Mr. McCooley of Brooklyn and Mr. Connolly of Queens are under obligations which may prompt them to attempt to interest the ideas of their constituents in the election with "this boys' places on the Myran Administration payroll."

It is quite likely that something may be done in the way of a compromise as a result of the convention proceedings to-day. There is a lot of talk about Mayor George Lusk, a Schermerhorn candidate, and many others, some of whose names may be in Mr. Murphy's mental brief case to remain forever.

In the matter of candidates for offices under those of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, there is a prospect of trading which may tend to level the situation. The question of patronage will figure to a great extent and there are offices in the State, elected ticket and under gubernatorial appointment which carry payrolls ample enough to accommodate the names of thousands of Democratic patriots.

THREE YEAR OLD CHILD CHOKED TO DEATH

Two Little Boys Tried Their Best to Save Him.

Nicholas Angelillo, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelillo of No. 594 Main Street, Union Hill, was choked to death yesterday by some object that lodged in his throat. His mother's brother, Michael, an artist, aged fifteen, and another boy, aged five, found him choking in the rear yard. No physician from the immediate vicinity could be found, and the boys took the child to North Hudson Hospital. Westchester, in an automobile that they stopped in the street.

Republican Platform Dwells On Economy in State Expenses

Administration of National Affairs Called into Argument for Election of Miller.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—The platform adopted by the Republicans of New York in State Convention here to-day follows in part:

"The re-establishment of administrative efficiency and the economy of expenditures effected alone entitle the Harding and Miller Administrations to a vote of confidence.

"A commission has been appointed with authority to negotiate the funding of our loans to the Allies.

"At the Disarmament Conference the United States, under the leadership of President Harding and Secretary Hughes, assumed world leadership and accomplished more for the promotion of peace and the reduction of armaments than had been accomplished in generations.

"For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, the last year of the Wilson Administration, the total national expenditures were $1,555,000,000. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, the first year of the Harding Administration, they were $2,795,902,499, or a saving of $1,240,782,100. The people will pay this year some $2,000,000,000 less in taxes than they did during the last year of the Democratic Administration.

"A tariff bill has been enacted to protect the American farmer, the American workman and American industries from ruinous competition, carrying rates on dutiable articles which on the average are lower than those of any previous Republican tariff.

"In spite of a policy of rigid economy, Congress has continued its generous treatment of our disabled veterans. Over one and a half billions have been expended for their benefit to date, and for the coming fiscal year approximately $500,000,000 will be spent."

"On State issues the platform says: 'In 1910 the State appropriations were $42,975,460. In 1918 they had grown to $81,525,371. Under two years of Democratic administration they had mounted from $11,525,371 to $145,215,966, while the requests prepared by department heads under that administration for submission to the Legislature of 1921 totalled $201,644,252. In 1921, the first year of Gov. Miller's term, appropriations were reduced to $135,709,000. For the first time in more than a generation the constant increase was brought to a halt and a downward revision begun."

"The Legislature of 1921 eliminated more than $7,000,000 from the budget requests submitted by the preceding Administration, provided for $10,000,000 of deficiencies left over by that Administration and actually effected a

DEMOCRATS AIDED BY NEWBERRYISM IN MICHIGAN FIGHT

Have Best Chance Since Civil War of Winning Seat in U. S. Senate.

FERRIS LOOKS GOOD.

Many Nominees Are Wet and Prohibition Will Be One of Big Issues.

[This is the fourth of the series of articles on the outlook for both parties which Mr. Lawrence is writing on a tour of the country.]

By David Lawrence. (Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

DETROIT, Sept. 28 (Copyright).—The Democrats have the best chance of electing a United States Senator in Michigan that they have had since the Civil War. Translated into political actualities, however, this is only another way of saying the Republican majority of 550,000 will be extensively reduced and Senator Townsend, Republican, will pull through by a relatively small margin.

The campaign has hardly begun, but it will be admitted that former Gov. Ferris, who is running for the United States Senate on the Democratic ticket, is a fascinating speaker and vote-getter. Twice he carried this State and to do so any Democrat must win the Republican voters to his standard by tens of thousands. His strength was not sufficient, however, two years ago to effect the Harding ticket and he was defeated by $60,000, which was only $8,000 better than the Democratic total for President.

Those who believe former Gov. Ferris has a chance to win base their hopes on the fact that he has twice carried the Republican State of such size as this. They argue the 1920 landslide would have buried anybody. Mr. Ferris promises an interesting campaign for Michigan.

As for issues, the chief complaint against Senator Townsend is that he refused to vote to unseat his colleague, Truman H. Newberry. There is a good deal of agitation over Newberryism. It didn't all vanish after the primaries either.

The 125,000 votes which Herbert Baker got in the Republican primaries for United States Senator are variously described as "sinister" and "significant."

(Continued on Fifteenth Page.)

Heroes of Hanson Place, Brooklyn, Fire And Scene of Two Spectacular Rescues

ED GOMPERS THEO. HERMAN

POLICE UP IN AIR AT FIND OF SKULL WITH LONG HAIR

Red Hook Discovery Starts Poison Rum Fuel Scare—But It's a Joke.

For two hours to-day the police of the Hamilton Avenue Station, Brooklyn, had a murder mystery and it was good experience for Capt. Sullivan and the detectives. Patrolman Thomas McCarthy, with a post in the neighborhood of Conover Street, noted for the deaths that have occurred there as the result of wood alcohol, brought into the station house a human skull with long, black coarse hair. Dr. Ernest Vaughn of the District Attorney's office said it might be a woman's and it might be a Chinese skull.

McCarthy said the mystery had been turned over to him by John Curley, a street cleaner. Curley said it came to him from the driver of a street cleaning cart. Fred Cronin, the driver, said he got it from Joseph Bornito, who runs a candy store at No. 153 Conover Street. Bornito's story was that he found it in the store when he bought the place from Felix Fallito eighteen months ago. Fallito was found and said he had found it in the store when he bought the place from a German woman three and one-half years ago and that then it was resting in an ice cream can.

The police found the woman and she said it had belonged to two German sailors who boarded with her before the war. She said they said they found it on a beach in the Far East and it was a Chinese skull. The hair on it, she explained, was only glued on and they had done that to scare bad children in the neighborhood. Investigation showed the hair was glued on and thus the mystery lost interest to the detectives.

GIRL, 17, CAN'T GO TO FAIR; SHE ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

Father Had Invited Her, But Mother Didn't Think She Was Well Enough.

Miss Elizabeth Percell, seventeen, who lived with her mother in Main Street, Raritan, N. J., committed suicide to-day by gas, according to the police, because she had been refused permission to go to the State Fair at Trenton.

The girl's parents live apart, and this morning her father, George Percell, employed in a Raritan mill, called at the house and invited his daughter to go with him to the fair. Elizabeth had been ill for several days with a sore throat and her mother did not think she ought to go. Mr. Percell left, and the girl ran up stairs to her room crying. A few minutes later Mrs. Percell went out on an errand. When she returned she smelled gas fumes.

She went to the daughter's room and found the girl lying unconscious on the floor with gas flowing from a jet. Mrs. Percell summoned aid and the girl was taken to the Raritan Hospital where she died. She was a high school graduate and was popular among Raritan young people.

20 CADDIES ANSWER "I DOES, MR. JAWGE," AND THE DAY IS SAVED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 28.—Players in the Southern open golf tournament starting over the Belle Meade course here to-day came near having to "tote their own" when the Negro caddies went on a strike for more money and departed in a body to catch a car back to town.

The popularity of George Livingstone, Belle Meade pro, saved the day, however. Walking over to the assembled caddies, he asked: "Who want to caddy for me to-day?"

"I does, Mr. Jawge," replied twenty hours of the strikers.

"Come on then," the pro replied, and they followed him back to the clubhouse in a body as they had left it.

KEMALISTS SEIZE BOOZE, CLOSE BARS

Reconquered Territory Is Made Bone Dry.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—One of the first acts of the Kemalist Administration in the reconquered territory has been the confiscation of all alcohol beverages and the closing of all bars. The Turkish newspapers here warn the inhabitants of Constantinople that they may soon expect similar steps to be taken in this city.

An Angora official communiqué contains announcement of the nomination of a Kemalist Governor for Chanak-Kaleh, from which it says the last 350 inhabitants were evacuated yesterday.

TEACHER BARRED AS U. S. CITIZEN

Deception Evident to Court in Exemption Excuse.

Solomon Jonathan Davidson Fendell, twenty-seven, of No. 2825 West Thirty-third Street, Coney Island was refused citizenship papers to-day by Justice Callaghan in the Kings County Supreme Court. Fendell, born in London came here from Hamburg in 1905. In the draft of 1917 he claimed exemption as an alien. He is a graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, and of Columbia and taught French and Spanish in a Matteawan High School.

He denied claiming exemption and later said he did not understand the questionnaire. To this the Court said: "You wish me to understand that you, a college graduate, did not understand what you were answering? It is evident to me that you are trying to deceive me, and every one in the court knows it. I deny the application."

BROKER REPUDIATES FALSE PROSPECTUS

Trial of Maj. Sutton in Stock Promotion Case Resumed.

The trial of Maj. Redondo Sutton in the Court of General Sessions on charges of publishing false statements in order to sell stock of the Pacific Minerals and Chemical Company was resumed before Judge Talley to-day, but the session was brief.

Assistant District Attorney Whalen introduced some documentary evidence, including a prospectus of the company. Then Charles W. Galvin, broker, No. 50 Broad Street, denied that he had supplied Miss Florence James, No. 22 East 98th Street, with the prospectus and other literature which she has testified she used in her efforts to induce her fashionable friends to buy stock.

REBELS AT ODDS, DE VALERA PARTS WITH STAFF CHIEF

Break Revealed in Letters Seized by Free State Forces.

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—(Associated Press).—Eamonn de Valera, leader of the Irish Republican forces, and Liam Lynch, Chief of Staff of the Irish Republican Army, have parted, according to extracts of correspondence seized by the Free State forces and read by Gen. Mulcahy, Commander of the National Army, in the session of the Dail Eireann yesterday.

These extracts disclosed that there were serious differences of opinion between the two irregular leaders. They showed that very unhappy relations have existed between the two for some time.

COYLE CLEARED IN BOY'S DEATH

Nominee for Supreme Court Ran Over Youngster.

Coroner Edward Fitzgerald to-day exonerated John E. Coyle, Democratic nominee for Justice of the Supreme Court, of all blame in connection with the death yesterday of Carl Hyler, ten, of Elmford, who died in the Tarrytown Hospital of injuries received when he was struck by Coyle's machine on the Saw Mill River road. The boy was run over shortly after delegates of the Ninth Judicial District had designated Mr. Coyle as candidate for the Supreme Bench.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS UNITED FOR TOWNSEND

MUSKEGON, Mich., Sept. 28 (Associated Press).—Michigan Republicans in convention here to-day adopted a platform endorsing both United States Senator Charles E. Townsend and Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck and pledging the "united support of the party to all Republican nominees in November."

Without a contest the convention nominated Secretary of State Deland, Attorney General Wiley, State Treasurer Gorman, Auditor General Fuller and Justice McDonald of the State Supreme Court.

LEADS 7 FROM FIRE, THEN HELPS SAVE 5 HURT BY EXPLOSION

Passerby Rouses Woman, Son and Roomers Caught in Brooklyn Blaze.

Five firemen, one of whom will die, are in Brooklyn Hospital following their spectacular rescue by brother firemen after they had been hurled down a steep flight of stairs by a back draught, several other firemen were less severely injured and a woman and six men were saved shortly after 8 o'clock this morning when flames swept a four-story brick building at No. 9 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, opposite the Long Island Station.

The firemen in the hospital all are members of Engine Company No. 226. They are Lieut. John Judge of No. 169 Albany Avenue, and Firemen Matthew J. Cavanaugh of No. 948 Jefferson Avenue, J. J. Cannon of No. 806 Blake Avenue, William J. Pritchard of No. 147 Smith Street, and Frederick Stenton of No. 135 North Oxford Street, all of Brooklyn. Cannon, Pritchard and Cavanaugh are in a serious condition and Cannon is not expected to recover.

The fire occurred at the height of the rush hour and police reserves had to be called from the Bergen Street Station to keep the thousands moving to and from the Long Island Station and the subway. For a time firemen were seriously hampered by these crowds.

The building is occupied on the ground floor by a United Clear Store, on the second by George's Hat Company, and on the upper two by furnished rooms conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth Jones and her son, Hamilton.

The flames originated in the hat establishment. Alfred Gold of No. 1778 Park Place, Brooklyn, an employee, was engaged in running a hat cleaning machine in which crude oil is used when a spark ignited the oil. Gold and Miss Alice Ryan of No. 129 Putnam Street, attempted to extinguish the flames by beating at them with a broom but failed and rushed to the street.

Edward J. Gompers of No. 105 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn, was passing the building and rushed in when he discovered flames issuing from the second floor windows. He found his way up the smoke-filled hallway to the third and fourth floors, where he aroused Mrs. Jones and her son and their five roomers and led them to a fire escape and assisted them across to the building at No. 11.

A policeman turned in an alarm which brought Battalion Chief Bernard Rasmussen and Deputy Chief Thomas Langford, as well as several companies, among which was Engine No. 226.

Lieut. Judge and his four men were the first into the building and had reached the second floor landing when a line of hose when they were caught in an explosion caused by back draught that blew out every window in the house and hurled the five to the foot of the stairs.

The street door was blown shut by the explosion and the unconscious firemen became lodged against it, so that entry to the building had to be forced.

Firemen Joseph Daugherty, chauffeur for Chief Rasmussen, and Frederick Herman, chauffeur for Chief Langford, saw at a glance what had happened and rushed to the aid of their fellow workers. But they were not a bit more alert than Gompers, who appears to have been the busiest man at the scene. The three forced the door by brute strength and carried Lieut. Judge and his men to safety. All were in a semi-conscious state and were placed in Daugherty's machine and rushed to the hospital.

Gompers himself had to be attended by a Fire Department surgeon after his second rescue. When his work was completed he returned to his home for a much needed scrubbing.

Fireman James Stewart, of Patrol No. 9, also was severely injured, but he remained at his post after having been treated by a Fire Department surgeon. He was badly cut on both wrists by flying glass when the explosion shattered the windows.

After denouncing the new tariff law, the Daugherty injunction and the Newberry decision in the Senate, he turned to the State administration.

He referred to Gov. Miller as a lawyer who is working practically all the time for the corporations, denounced the action of the Republican Legislature in abolishing the primaries for State and judicial nominations and denied emphatically that the Miller administration had put into operation a plan of practical economy.

On the contrary, he asserted "that the last Democratic (Smith) administration cost $44,000,000 less than the present Miller administration." He cited the report of the Comptroller to show that at the end of the Smith regime there was a surplus of over $48,000,000 in the State treasury, that this had been reduced by approximately $3,000,000 at the end of Miller's first year in office and that on June 30 of next year it will have been cut to not quite $22,000,000.

The reduction in the State tax rate, he asserted, was due to the adoption of a constitutional amendment changing certain methods of financing by the State, and asked if it would not have been a simpler way to return the "alleged savings" of the Governor to the taxpayer by reducing the income tax or elimination of "some of the unnecessary forms of taxation."

He declared reorganization of the State Labor Department, asserting its efficiency had been destroyed, and charged the State hospitals have been allowed to deteriorate because of decreased appropriations.

47 YEARS TO GET COLLEGE DEGREE

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 28.—Forty-six years ago Miss Idella Hawley of Aurora, Ill., entered the University of Michigan. A year later she had to go to work to help her family.

CHOSEN TO TAKE LYON'S PLACE AT CONVENTION TO-DAY

SAMUEL J. JOSEPH

which brought Battalion Chief Bernard Rasmussen and Deputy Chief Thomas Langford, as well as several companies, among which was Engine No. 226.

Lieut. Judge and his four men were the first into the building and had reached the second floor landing when a line of hose when they were caught in an explosion caused by back draught that blew out every window in the house and hurled the five to the foot of the stairs.

The street door was blown shut by the explosion and the unconscious firemen became lodged against it, so that entry to the building had to be forced.

Firemen Joseph Daugherty, chauffeur for Chief Rasmussen, and Frederick Herman, chauffeur for Chief Langford, saw at a glance what had happened and rushed to the aid of their fellow workers. But they were not a bit more alert than Gompers, who appears to have been the busiest man at the scene. The three forced the door by brute strength and carried Lieut. Judge and his men to safety. All were in a semi-conscious state and were placed in Daugherty's machine and rushed to the hospital.

Gompers himself had to be attended by a Fire Department surgeon after his second rescue. When his work was completed he returned to his home for a much needed scrubbing.

Fireman James Stewart, of Patrol No. 9, also was severely injured, but he remained at his post after having been treated by a Fire Department surgeon. He was badly cut on both wrists by flying glass when the explosion shattered the windows.

After denouncing the new tariff law, the Daugherty injunction and the Newberry decision in the Senate, he turned to the State administration.

He referred to Gov. Miller as a lawyer who is working practically all the time for the corporations, denounced the action of the Republican Legislature in abolishing the primaries for State and judicial nominations and denied emphatically that the Miller administration had put into operation a plan of practical economy.

On the contrary, he asserted "that the last Democratic (Smith) administration cost $44,000,000 less than the present Miller administration." He cited the report of the Comptroller to show that at the end of the Smith regime there was a surplus of over $48,000,000 in the State treasury, that this had been reduced by approximately $3,000,000 at the end of Miller's first year in office and that on June 30 of next year it will have been cut to not quite $22,000,000.

The reduction in the State tax rate, he asserted, was due to the adoption of a constitutional amendment changing certain methods of financing by the State, and asked if it would not have been a simpler way to return the "alleged savings" of the Governor to the taxpayer by reducing the income tax or elimination of "some of the unnecessary forms of taxation."

He declared reorganization of the State Labor Department, asserting its efficiency had been destroyed, and charged the State hospitals have been allowed to deteriorate because of decreased appropriations.

After denouncing the new tariff law, the Daugherty injunction and the Newberry decision in the Senate, he turned to the State administration.

He referred to Gov. Miller as a lawyer who is working practically all the time for the corporations, denounced the action of the Republican Legislature in abolishing the primaries for State and judicial nominations and denied emphatically that the Miller administration had put into operation a plan of practical economy.

On the contrary, he asserted "that the last Democratic (Smith) administration cost $44,000,000 less than the present Miller administration." He cited the report of the Comptroller to show that at the end of the Smith regime there was a surplus of over $48,000,000 in the State treasury, that this had been reduced by approximately $3,000,000 at the end of Miller's first year in office and that on June 30 of next year it will have been cut to not quite $22,000,000.

The reduction in the State tax rate, he asserted, was due to the adoption of a constitutional amendment changing certain methods of financing by the State, and asked if it would not have been a simpler way to return the "alleged savings" of the Governor to the taxpayer by reducing the income tax or elimination of "some of the unnecessary forms of taxation."

He declared reorganization of the State Labor Department, asserting its efficiency had been destroyed, and charged the State hospitals have been allowed to deteriorate because of decreased appropriations.

After denouncing the new tariff law, the Daugherty injunction and the Newberry decision in the Senate, he turned to the State administration.

ACTORS' FUND PROTESTS $34,257 LAWYER FEE

Charge for Services in Findler Estate Called Excessive.

The Actors' Fund of America to-day filed formal objection in Surrogate's Court to the payment of $34,257 for legal services to Maurice and Daniel Blumenthal, lawyers, of No. 233 Broadway.

WOMEN DEMAND PLACE ON SLATE; CHEER AL. SMITH

Urge Mrs. O'Day of Rye for Secretary of State at Dinner.

By Jerry Daly. (Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

SYRACUSE, Sept. 28.—Although divided in their preference between Al Smith and William Randolph Hearst as the Democratic candidate for Governor, the women attending the State Convention here to-day have not been backward in making known to Democratic leaders their desire to have a woman named for at least one place on the State ticket.

Satisfied that their claims for recognition of one of their own sex will be in vain when it comes time to put the finishing touches to the balance of the slate, most of the women are concentrating their energies toward the nomination of Al Smith and are selling Al Smith campaign buttons to every man who will pay a quarter for one.

The women advocating the cause of the editor-politician are in a very small minority. The Smith women have opened headquarters in the Onondaga Hotel, where Miss Harriet May Mills, co-leader of the State with Herbert R. Fell Jr., is holding forth, and is surrounded every hour of the day with a coterie of lieutenants. It is no secret that the women have tried in vain, however, to secure a place on the ticket for Mrs. Daniel O'Day of Rye, Westchester County.

At a dinner given in the Leavenworth Hotel last night by the Women's Democratic Club of Syracuse, Mrs. O'Day was hailed as "our next Secretary of State" when she arose to address an assemblage of 300 women from all parts of the State. Mrs. O'Day in the course of her remarks proclaimed:

"We can win with Al Smith, the man the Democratic women want for Governor." This provoked a spontaneous outburst, which ended in calls for Mrs. Smith to rise and acknowledge the tribute paid to her husband.

Miss Mills introduced the toastmaster, Mrs. Candace Brown Knickerbocker, Vice President of the Syracuse Women's Club, who pleaded with the women to organize in every county and district of the State. Other speakers were Miss Marion Dickerson, Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, Vice Chairman of the National Democratic Committee in Washington; Mrs. Percy Jackson, President of the State Consumers' League; Miss Rose Schneiderman of the New York State Women's Trades Union League, and Miss Annie Mathews, Register of New York County.

Another speaker was Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt of Dutchess County, who was a gigantic Smith button. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman of Washington made a plea for funds and before she sat down she had twenty-six hundred dollars pledged from various counties. The dinner was a huge success and was so well patronized that it was necessary to have two sittings at many of the tables.

ARMED BAND SEIZES ANTI-SOVIET FILM IN GERMAN MOVIE

Audience Gets Wild West Thrill As Communists Raid Theatre.

LEIPSIG, Sept. 28.—The audience in a suburban motion picture theatre got a taste of Wild West action yesterday when a score of armed men, believed to be Communists, raided the house and confiscated a film depicting alleged chaotic conditions in Russia and the consequences of the military power of the Soviet Government.

The raiders, all about thirty years old, wore German military blouses. They gained entrance by buying tickets for the cheapest seats. Once inside they drew revolvers and demanded the film. They then disappeared.

Communists recently attempted to interrupt the showing of the same film in Hamburg.

HAD A BATH JAN. 1, SAYS BEGGAR WITH $201

But Hard-Hearted Judge Sentences Him to Jail.

A bath a day for three months in the workhouse was the sentence of Magistrate McAndrews in Night Court last night for Samuel Horowitz, fifty-four, of No. 280 Delancey Street.

Horowitz was arraigned on a charge of begging. Probation officers testified that $201 in dollars bills found on Horowitz when he was arrested represented one week's receipts. When they said Horowitz needed a bath, the prisoner said he had taken one Jan. 1.

DIED.

LOTHROP—CARL D. The Funeral Church, Broadway, 8th St. Friday, 11 A. M.

All "Lost and Found" articles advertised in The World are reported to "Lost and Found Bureau," Room 108, World Building, will be listed for thirty days. These items can be seen at any of The World's Offices. "Lost and Found" advertisements can be left at any of The World's Advertising Agencies. Friday, and if not claimed by the advertiser, they will be returned to the advertiser. The World's Office, 4000 Broadway, New York, or Brooklyn Office, 4100 Main.